

ABSTRACT

A cubic error correction polynomial is generated from syndromes when it is determined that there is a two-bit error or a three-bit error, a 5 normalized cubic equation is determined from the cubic error correction polynomial, roots of the normalized cubic equation is calculated, and roots of the cubic error correction polynomial are calculated from the roots of the normalized cubic 10 equation.

1018955-122701